Our Mission

When a hero falls, the impact reaches far beyond the moment of loss. Families, children, and communities carry that weight for years. Children of Fallen Heroes was created to ensure those families are never forgotten.

Our mission is to support and empower the children of fallen military members and first responders while expanding opportunities for foster youth, caregivers, and Title One Schools through mentorship, education, and life-changing experiences.

By combining STEM education, aviation, leadership development, and the arts, Children of Fallen Heroes creates opportunities that help young people grow stronger, discover new possibilities, and build meaningful futures.

Founder

Ken Wasley founded Children of Fallen Heroes with a mission to transform loss into opportunity. With more than four decades of experience in marketing, brand development, and mission-driven leadership, he has grown CFH from a grassroots effort into a national nonprofit serving thousands of families.

Today he leads the vision for the Children of Fallen Heroes Retreat & STEM+Arts Center in North Carolina, a destination designed to empower youth while honoring the legacy of military and first responder families.
